

Percent of graduates by employment state - 10 years after graduating high school

Graduating from a local college increases liklihood of regional employment

